The Multi-Function Massage Chair evenly distributes body weight across the surface of the chair, raising your feet to a higher elevation than your head, and allowing for a thorough, deeper and more intense full body massage experience.

Strengthened Immune & Lymphatic System:
We are exposed daily to harmful viruses which makes us vulnerable to an array of infections and diseases. Studies have shown that massage therapy, as well as the incline of the chair, increase the level in activity of the body’s white blood cells, while also stimulating the lymphatic system, which work to combat viruses and defend the body from disease and inflammation.

Increased Blood Circulation:
Poor blood circulation can have a huge impact on your brain, heart, liver, kidneys, and limbs, including dizziness, memory loss, headaches, high blood pressure, swelling, numbness, and cramps. The Zero-G Chair can help you improve your blood circulation by massaging the congested areas and therefore facilitating blood flow. This is a key element of good health as blood carries oxygen and important nutrients, protecting against strokes and increasing cognitive function.

Stress, Anxiety and Depression:
Stress and anxiety are part of our daily life. However, using the Zero-Gravity Massage Chair daily can be rejuvenating, relaxing, and increase energy levels. The stimulation of pressure points by the Zero-G Massage Chair also trigger the release of dopamine and serotonin, which are good for combating depression.

Relief for Cancer Patients:
Cancer patients suffer a great deal of pain, depression, anxiety, and stress. According to Cancer Council NSW, people with cancer have said that massage therapy makes them feel whole again, helps them relax, makes them feel more positive.

Headaches and Migraines:
Migraines and headaches are common ailments that anybody can experience. However, the Zero-Gravity Massage chair can help you lessen their occurrence. The chair has the ability to ease muscle tension and improve blood flow, therefore reducing the chance of headaches.

Back Pain, Muscle Pain and Rehabilitation:
With the Zero-G Massage Chair, patients with muscle and chronic back pain can experience natural pain relief. Undergoing the process of rehabilitation when you have suffered physical damage caused by accidents or injuries can be very traumatic. The Zero-G Massage chair has been verified to be a reliable, consistent and convenient approach to ease pain and to help restore mobility and flexibility to the soft tissues and muscle.

Enhanced Sleep:
Massage therapy is an effective way to combat insomnia. Using a massage chair will result in the production of melatonin which, will basically tell your brain to slow down and prepare to sleep. Other studies show that after having a massage, a person’s delta waves or brain waves associated with sleep will increase.
